Content Summary

These 90-minute sessions are focused on bringing schools together with people in creative careers in a meaningful and accessible way. Live steamed to your school from Chelmsford Theatre via YouTube, our four speakers will talk about their journey to their career, give advice on qualifications and experience, and share more information about their field. This is a live streamed session, so we ask that you remain at school and join us online as opposed to in person. If you cannot access the live streamed session, a recording can be made available for you to use instead. Upcoming sessions are 28 February and 6 June. You can also access the pre-ordered session from 22 October 2024 for just £50.
